Listening People
From AtaLoss.org
“The training was professional, insightful and perfectly pitched for our setting.” Joe Lowther, Kick London

Mental health and behavioural problems amongst young people are often rooted in loss. School staff would love to have the time to sit down, uninterrupted and give quality time to a distressed student, but they must give priority to teaching.

Listening People is a proven way in which a church or other organisation can make a welcomed difference in local schools or amongst the young people they have contact with, by learning to ‘listen’ effectively to those who are struggling with life and enable them to unpack the issues.

We offer valuable training, resources and consultancy for churches and youth organisations to become better equipped in supporting young people, in groups or one-to-one.
